

AIM AND PURPOSE

In the Art department, we aim to teach a high-quality art and design curriculum that should engage, inspire, and challenge pupils. This curriculum will equip them with the confidence, knowledge, and skills to experiment, invent and create their own works of art, craft, and design. As students progress throughout the key stages, they will be encouraged to think critically and develop a more rigorous understanding of art, craft, and design. They learn that art and design from all cultures reflect and shape history and contribute to the culture and wealth of the whole world. Art is a form of self-expression unique to the individual. This is reflected in the individual pieces produced at the end of GCSE and A Level courses, where students express themselves and their work is totally unique to them.

HOW DOES THE CURRICULUM INDUCT STUDENTS INTO THE DISCIPLINE OF THE SUBJECT?

Students are taught to love and appreciate the value of Art in the world across the three key stages. By the end of KS3 students will have learnt to appreciate the diversity of the art world after being exposed to a wide variety of cultural artists. By the end of KS4, students have acquired skills to prepare them to take their ideas and interests further. The knowledge, practical skills and written structures required for success at KS5 have become embedded, ensuring a smooth transition to A Level. By the end of Year 13 students have a portfolio of work that enables them to be interview ready.

Overall, the curriculum induces students to practice self-discipline and self-discovery by opening a world of possibilities, finding their own voice in the world of Art, Craft and Design.

OVERVIEW

Year 8 are introduced to the ideas and concepts around Abstraction in Art and Design. It helps to dispel the worry that everything in Art needs to be perfect and instead embeds the idea that imperfection is acceptable. Many 20th Century artists explored abstraction in one form or another, but the grandmaster of abstraction - Pablo Picasso - was the most prolific in his work. He inspired even hardened Pop Artists to develop their work in an abstract way, so this theory of 'removing reality' allows us to refine our idea to another level in Year 8.
